

Air Force Bombers to Fly Over BYU

by Rinda Graves
Asst. News Editor

Four B-57 jets will fly formations over BYU campus today as part of Air Force Week.

The event will conclude a g retreat ceremony at 5 p.m. on the north quad. The Air Force ROTC and Civil Flight corps will be hand to conduct the lower ceremony. Officiating will be Col. Jesse E. Lloyd, professor of aerospace studies at BYU.

In conjunction with Air Force Week, displays have been set up in the Wilkinson Center and Eyring Science Center.

A 1/96 scale model replica of the space port at Cape Kennedy is featured in the Wilkinson Center.

WORLD'S BIGGEST
The actual space port is world's largest building volume, and houses Sats-5—the vehicle that will carry man to the moon.

The model was borrowed from the Houston installation of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and is worth $20,000.

Other Wilkinson Center

exhibits include a mechanized mock-up of an ICBM, rocket nozzles, bombs, and air-to-air missiles. An air munitions display is also included.

The Eyring Science Center exhibits feature Air Force survival equipment.

FILMS

Films of current U.S. space efforts will be shown daily from 12 to 1 p.m. in the Varsity Theater. Continuous films will also be shown in the Reception Center from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. until Friday.

Highlight of the Air Force activities will be the Military Ball on April 12.

UNIVERSE JOBS

Applications are now being accepted for Universe Staff positions for this summer and next year, and interested persons must apply to the Wilkinson Center. Newly-appointed editor-in-chief Glen Willardson said previous experience on the Universe is not necessary, but a person should have journalism experience.

CAPE KENNEDY ROCKET LAUNCHER

. . . Kent Hill of the BYU unit of the AFROTC explains a scale model of a rocket launcher to Steve Bingham, Nancy Dreher and Daryl Henderson. The Cape Kennedy-type launcher model is one of the exhibits on display in the Wilkinson Center as part of Air Force Week at BYU. Other exhibits are displayed this week in the Eyring Science Center.

Virginia (l) and Frank (r) are:

- A. Interviewing an African couple.
- B. Visiting a Nigerian University.
- C. Exchanging ideas with Nigerian University students.

Actually, Virginia Blount and Frank Ogles are doing all these things. As members of the 500-student World Campus Afloat Chapman College, these two Arizona college students had the opportunity to talk with students at the University of Ife, Ibadan branch, Nigeria.

With the help of Nigerian students and professors, the Americans compared religions, art, anthropology, educational systems, economic systems, geography, drama, music, and dance of the two countries. This is done at Chapman's shipboard campus, the ss. Ryndam.

Virginia and Frank transferred the credits they earned back to their home colleges, Arizona State University and Northern Arizona University, and are going on for their baccalaureate degrees. Chapman College is currently accepting enrollments for the 1968-1969 academic year with the World Campus Afloat program.

Blood Drive Scheduled On Campus

The Spring Semester Blood Drive, sponsored by the Arnold Air Society and Angel Flight in cooperation with the American Red Cross, is scheduled for Apr. 25-26.

A table with permission slips for minors will be set up on Tuesday and Wednesday this week at the south end of the step-down lounge in the Wilkinson Center.

According to Chris Cottam, the blood drive chairman, this is the only drive of the several sponsored on campus by various organizations, which is coordinated with the Red Cross.

800 PINT GOAL

"Through this program," Mr. Cottam said, "if the goal of 800 pints is achieved, any full-time student at BYU will be entitled to all the blood he needs during this semester free of charge, regardless of whether or not he donated blood."

Cottam also mentioned that blood donors will also receive a donor's card which in an emergency will entitle them to all the blood they will need, anytime and anywhere in the country.

Kery Hegstrom (center) won the Delta Phi Kappa Speech Contest Thursday. Also pictured are Don Belche and Ken Mangum, winners of second and third place respectively. Miss Hegstrom spoke on the significance of clerical opposition to the war in Vietnam.

Coed's Speech Wins Annual DPK Contest

Kary Hegstrom, the only girl in a field of five finalists in the Delta Phi Kappa Speech Contest, recently walked off with the first prize.

Kary received a complete set of the Documentary History of the Church for her extemporaneous talk on the significance of clerical opposition to the war in Vietnam. Kary's previous experience includes three years of high school debate and three in college—one at the University of the Pacific.

Don Belche took second place after drawing a topic concerning the Christian ideology of Quakers sending medical aid to Vietnam. Don is a junior in speech.

Drama Dept. Enters Opening Of 'Rip'

YU theatre patrons will take a step back to the country side of the eighties and nine-ties beginning April 11 with the action of Rip Van Winkle. The story of the genial old drunk who slept twenty years away by the Dramatic Arts Department was adapted from Washington Irving's story in 1865. Dr. Charles Whitman, director, emphasizes that this story is a production suitable for the entire family.

When the very successful play "Legend of the Castle" first opened, that was a sign when stage people were by means approved of by New & purity brigades. To reassure churchly and the timid who feared their wrath, the word "melodrama" never was mentioned, the "drama" was rarely emphasized.

40 YEARS' POPULARITY However, the play was so popular for forty years that there was a city in the United States of the British Isles that did not burn it at least once a year. A four and a half show including two matinal shows present three evening performances, April 11, 12, and 13 all running at 7 p.m. and one matinée on April 13 beginning at 2 p.m. Children and young adults over 18 years of age will pay $2.50 and those over 18 will pay $1.50.

Oratorio Sings 'Requiem'

Mystery surrounds the history of Mozart's "Requiem" to be performed by the Oratorio Choir and the Utah Valley Symphony Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

In 1791, which was to be Mozart's year, he was approached by a gentleman who asked him to compose a grand requiem. The stranger was unknown to Mozart, a servant of Count Walsegg, a nobleman who fancied himself to be a composer because he could afford to hire actual artists to ghost write for him. Mozart needed the money and agreed to do the work, although he never knew who his client was.

PREMPTION

The "Requiem" was started in September and after only two or three weeks of work, Mozart began to have the premonition that the "Requiem" was for his death.

Mozart "sharply put aside the score and broke into bitter weeping on the afternoon of Dec. 4th."

That evening, his strength ebbing by the minute, he was found in anxious consultation with his assistant Franz Stessmayer;

an hour after midnight, as if he had willed himself, Mozart died."

The work was yet unfinished and Stessmayer took over its composition. So similar was Stessmayer's style and even written hand that the complete work was taken to be Mozart's for some time.

Also on the program is a recent composition by Dr. Gerrit de Jong, Jr., Dean Emeritus of the College of Fine Arts. Tribute will be paid to Dr. de Jong for his outstanding services and encouragement of the fine Arts in the Utah Valley.

The Utah Valley Symphony will play fanciful "Harry Janos Suite" by Zoltan Kodaly. It is the Hungarian folk legend of Harry Janos who attracted Marie Louise, the wife of Napoleon.

Concerts Impromptu Successful

Concerts Impromptu reached its goal Saturday evening, according to Steve Finlayson, chairman of the series.

Over 500 students enjoyed the fire-side atmosphere in the Memorial Lounge beginning at 9 p.m. The goal had been to make Concerts Impromptu an event attended by those interested in entertainment for the evening, rather than just an in-and-out crowd.

The concert series has also been successful in drawing large crowds —too large for the Memorial Lounge. Now facing the committee is the decision whether or not to move to a new auditorium that will accommodate the crowd or to limit the crowd size by continuing to hold it in the Lounge.

As Finlayson pointed out, it would defeat the relaxed atmosphere to hold the concert in an auditorium.

The series has been asked to do two or three hour shows for KBZY television.

What's a 1967 Olds doing in this 1968 Olds advertisement?

It's making the point that you can own an Oldsmobile. If not a new one, then certainly a used one.

Like the nifty 1967 Olds 4-4-2 you see here. Or a sporty used Cutlass convertible maybe.

Or, even, one of those great Olds Rocket 88s.

Of course, Olds dealers also carry a large stock of other brands on their Value-Rated used car lot. And should you decide on one of them instead . . . well, at least we'll know you picked a good place to do it.

BYU Soccer Squads Tip Incas, Hollandia

By Jim Hunt
University Sportswriter

BYU's soccer teams scored a pair of upsets Saturday by whipping Hollandia "B" and the tough Inca club from Salt Lake City.

In the opening game, BYU's "B" team shut out Hollandia, 5-0, by displaying a sticky defense. The Y "A" team came from behind to squeeze out a 4-2 win from the Incas.

Again the Incas, BYU trailed 2-0 after 60 minutes. Then Horst Mastag scored his second after-hour goal to ice the game for the Y.

Mastag scored to start the Y comeback. A few minutes later, an Inca fullback was ejected from the game as a result of a flagrant foul against team captain Bill Forrest. Lynn Jacobs engineered BYU's next offensive move by slamming home a goal to knot the score 2-2. With ten minutes left, Frank Finney of the Y booted in a rebound shot from Nico Berrio to give the lead to BYU.

Jacobs scored his second after-hour goal to ice the game for the Y.

Cat Cagers Ranked Seven

By Glen Willardson
Sports Editor

BYU's basketball team can look back on its 13-12 season with pride following an interesting announcement made Monday by professor Gordon L. Wise of Wright State University.

The Cougar Cagers received a post-season ranking of seventh place nationally for the toughness of their schedule.

Coach Stan Watts' squad compiled 90.7 "power points" while ending the 1967-68 campaign with a winning record.

Wake Forest of the Atlantic Coast Conference had the toughest schedule with 93.8 "power points" being assessed while finishing the season with a 5-21 record.

The Western Athletic Conference was rated the fourth toughest conference in the nation. Ahead of the WAC were the Southeastern, Atlantic Coast and Pacific Eight.

Following BYU in the WAC by toughness of schedule were Arizona (26th), Wyoming (33rd), Utah (37th), Arizona State (45th) and New Mexico (67th).

Houston ended the regular season with the nation's ninth-ranked team (until it was taken at the hands of UCLA in a semi-final game) but its rates only in the flyweight class. There were 99 college basketball country whose schedules were tougher than Houston's.

Reaction, Reaction, More Reaction

Compiled From UPI Reports
By Jacques Campbell
WIRE EDITOR

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Americans generally agreed today that Senator Johnson made a personal sacrifice in stepping out of the presidential race. But some expressed doubt he would stick to his decision.

"The ultimate sacrifice for peace," was the way Rep. M. Matsunaga, D-Hawaii, a son supporter, described it.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield summed up the biggest crisis of this season of political crises when he told a New York audience this morning: "It's been a year."

Mansfield said the President's announcement "has to be taken at face value," but added: "A draft convention would change mind."

KERR URGES REENTRY

Bilam G. Kerr, Oklahoma Democrat state chairman, urging a return of Johnson back in the Senate:

"He is the best qualified man in the world to be President of the United States. Our country needs him to do everything within my power and political power to him to reconsider and actively support the nomination."

At a press conference, nationally ised and broadcast, Sen. Robert

F. Kennedy of New York congratulated President Johnson on his "magnanimous" decision to withdraw from the presidential race and urged a meeting "to discuss how we might work together in the interests of national peace."

Kennedy said Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had a "distinguished record" but would have to answer for himself on whether he was now a prospective presidential nominee.

DOUBLE SATISFACTION'

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy who preceded Kennedy into the race to wrest away the nomination, said he got "double satisfaction" from the announcement. He explained to reporters in Milwaukee that it not only removed his chief obstacle in the competition, it indicated growing support for his criticism of Johnson's policy.

'ACT OF PATRIOT'

Sen. William Fulbright, D-Ark., one of the leading doves on Vietnam, called the decision "an act of a very great patriot."

Another critic of the war, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D. Mass., said: "I wired the President expressing my respect for his courage and recognition of the personal price he was willing to pay for peace."

Nixon, seeking the Republican presidential nod, said in New York

he thought Humphrey "or someone espousing the Johnson philosophy" might be the GOP opponent in November.

On the Utah scene commented greatly, even among members of the same political party.

Gov. Carron C. Robinson: "The withdrawal of President Johnson from the presidential race leaves a great gap in the party."

The governor, a staunch Johnson supporter, said he was "taken aback by the president's decision." Ransom said he would not know what the decision would mean to the party until he had time to reflect on the president's action.

CONTINUE REORGANIZATION

A. Wally Sandack, state Democratic chairman, said, "I was rather shocked by the announcement, however, I still see the need to continue with the reorganization of the party."

Sandack said he would not announce his own position on the Democratic candidate until the state party convention in July. Sandack's wife is a member of the Robert Kennedy campaign organization in Utah.

Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, said he wouldn't be surprised if the announcement resulted in additional presidential candidates from both parties.

LONDON

LONDON—Prime Minister Harold

Wilson's government hailed the bombing halt as a "further opportunity of achieving a just and honorable peace." Sir Alec Douglas-Home, former prime minister and now opposition Conservative party spokesman for foreign affairs, said securing peace will be "a very long and difficult process. Whether this move of President Johnson's will make any difference in Hanoi one has to see."

THAILAND

Bangkok—Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn of Thailand said he fears Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's possible election as president. "If Sen. Kennedy wins, U.S. policy in Southeast Asia will be left on their own," he said. "If former Vice President Richard M. Nixon becomes president, we will not see any big policy changes either in Southeast Asia or in Vietnam."

AUSTRALIA

Canberra—Prime Minister John Gorton of Australia hailed the bombing pause as further proof of America's desire for peace. He praised Johnson's pledge to continue fighting in "anyway."

SWEDEN

Stockholm—Olle Petriini, editor in chief of the newspaper Expressen, said Kennedy and President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam "are the great conquerors. Johnson's withdrawal means a victory to North Vietnam and also a certain advantage." Hjalmar Mehr, city parliament official, said it all means that now the U.S. government will have the money to "get rid of the Negro ghettos in American cities. . . . I now do really hope Robert Kennedy will be nominated. . . . then the world probably will relax."

JAPAN

Tokyo—The stock market responded at first word from Johnson and then managed to recover most losses by the end of the day's trading. Foreign Minister Takeo Miki told parliament Johnson's bombing announcement brightened peace prospects in Vietnam.

AUSTRIA

Vienna—Franz Spiller, a salaried worker, said: "It's about time somebody else takes over because Johnson proved unable in many years to solve the Vietnam crisis, thus hurting U.S. prestige all over the world." Karl Edelhofer, a bank official, said, "I fear the Communists will take advantage of the Johnson decision, considering it an admission of U.S. defeat. . . ."

Supreme Court Decides Case

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court ruled 5 to 3 today the "one man, one vote" principle applies to the election of county and local governments, extending the controversial line from the state down to grass roots political level, the court could apply to an estimated 80,000 governing units throughout the nation.

MIDLAND, TEX. CASE

The ruling came on a challenge from Midland County, Tex., which also includes the city of

In the majority opinion, Justice Byron R. White said the decision did not prevent the selection of government units by appointment or other innovations but held that if members were elected on a districting basis, the one man, one vote principle must prevail.

Dr. Donaldson Gives Prize-Winning Biology Lecture

Microbiology came to the layman in the Annual Faculty Lecture delivered by Dr. David M. Donaldson of BYU Bacteriology Department Wednesday.

The lecture, representing the highest honor bestowed on a faculty member by his colleagues for his scholarly and teaching contributions, was demonstrated with slides, including pictures taken with the electron microscope and punctuated with Dr. Donaldson's easy humor. It sparked a lively question-answer period.

Dr. Donaldson will present this lecture on KBV-TV Channel 11 at 8 p.m. Friday.

He explained that there are four general types of reactions to foreign materials: reaction of the body when recovery from infection, rejection of the foreign material if it is tissue from another animal (this reaction causes the rejection of organ transplants but is helpful in "immunotherapy"); the development of hypersensitivity or allergies, and the development of "auto-immune diseases where, for some reason, the body fails to recognize its own tissue as 'self' and you tend to get a rejection phenomena."

ANTIBODIES

When the foreign materials gets inside the body, it causes antibodies to form. A newborn animal does not form antibodies against foreign material, but it is protected by its mother's antibodies for about six months after birth. Dr. Donaldson commented that this tolerance is "one of the reasons we don't form antigens against our own tissues" and cited the example of a frog who rejected a transplant of his own tissues taken from it as a tadpole.

In organ transplants, the physician actually tries to include tolerance in the patient by destroying the antibody-forming cells, he explained. Unfortunately this lowers general resistance to microorganisms and "infection is a common post-operation result."

DESTROY CELLS

Usually phagocytic cells in the body will "pick up particulate matter and destroy it." These cells, found in the spleen, bone marrow, liver, blood and lymph nodes, can reduce one million micro-organisms injected into a rabbit's blood stream to less than 1,000 in 15 minutes.

The phagocyte will "engulf" the foreign matter as well as releasing enzymes that kill bacteria.

Dr. Donaldson also explained the composition and activity of betalysin, a small protein originating in blood platelets that has been purified 37,000-fold in his laboratory from raw serum. Research done on the substance before had only purified it two or three times.

When betalysin goes up in the blood-stream in the presence of phagocytic particles, the number of platelets goes down to only one-third of their previous quantity of betalysin. Dr. Donaldson therefore postulates that the platelets destroy themselves to protect the protective betalysin against many type of bacteria.
